biology pdf download.Q: IIS hosting Html file with Front Page Editor and.NET security I am having an issue with loading my.html file in IIS. I have a web application named 'test' in my IIS 7.5 and in Default Web Site Application in IIS. I also have a HTML file in 'test\wwwroot' and named 'index.html' that I would like to be used when the user enters my website. I have full control on both of my pages so I make sure to add and tags in both pages. The problem is the following: When I enter my website (localhost or and try to access index.html, I get a 404 error: 'The resource cannot be found' Is it possible to make index.html be served instead of index.aspx? Thanks a lot in advance for your help. P.S.: This is my first post here, please be aware that I have no idea how to format it better. A: You should check the web.config for all the configurations. Q: How do I receive messages from chat or unifiedchat.org? I recently started using the chat interface in Ubuntu, but I'm having trouble receiving messages. How do I do that? A: You can check the list of channels which are in use on this site: You can also search for a specific channel by its name or ID. You can log in to any channel by typing /join #channelName (a blank space will be used for the tag, the list is

Lisa Courtney Votaw 12/11/2000 11:57 AM To: Lisa King/HOU/ECT@ECT cc: Subject: Meeting Confirmation Lisa, I met with Stephanie for about 45 minutes today. During that time I asked her questions about the current EGM Functionality scope and Tagg setup. She was very informative and shared all of her thoughts on the subject. It was also very helpful to go through a mock up of the TAGG screen that she had created. She had filled in most of the information for the report that she will be sharing with you, but I did have a couple questions. To help me out I will e-mail her some of the questions that I had this morning. I have also scheduled a meeting with her with next week for a possible launch. If it's soon enough you could possibly take her through it then, and we can continue with her later if you need to. Lisa, is there anything else that you would like me to ask her or would you rather I leave her alone for a week? Let me know, I look forward to hearing back from you.

Thanks, Courtney
